REBELLION IN BOLIVIA.

An Attempt to Overthrow the Government by the President-Elect —Many Arrests.

The New Convention Concluded for the Construction of the Panama Canal.

A Cricketer's Suicide at Halifax—A Lucky Philadelphian—The Deaf and Dumb.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Herald's cable from Valparaiso, via Galveston, says:—Official telegrams have been received at Santiago to the effect that General Camacho issued a pronounciamento and started a revolution at Oruro, Bolivia.

The Bolivian Government at once took steps to suppress the uprising. Gen. Camacho was placed under arrest and 16 deputies, who were supposed to be in favor of Camacho's movement, were arrested and with their leader were deported to the Chilean port of Antofogasta. All the cities of the republic have been declared in a state of siege and Congress has been summoned to sit at once and declare Baptiste president. The Indians are supposed to be in favor of Camacho, and it is not at all improbable that he will renew his attempt to gain control of the executive machinery of the republic.

I learn that Chili has decided to grant the request of the Government of the United States to appoint a commission to sit at Washington and act conjointly with commissioners appointed by the United States to arbitrate all American claims against Chili. The Chilean Government requires, however, six months in which to make the necessary arrangements.

United States Minister Patrick Egan has announced to the foreign office that he intends to leave Chile by the end of the present month.

News comes from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, that Pixoti has signed the law granting amnesty to the revolutionists. A bill allowing the immigration of coolies has been signed by the president.

A Baby Parade.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 8.—The people of Atlantic City never knew how many babies there were in that select resort until this afternoon, when the great infantile event of the season, the Baby Parade, took place. The parade was led by little Morris Moses, who tips the beam at something over 350 pounds. He was awarded the heavy-weight honors, besides being much complimented on the success of the event, which had been arranged by himself and H. Ackley Sackett, the man who lays claim to having hatched the original baby show idea during his stay at Asbury, a couple of years ago. Each baby was presented with a prize for being the prettiest and best behaved child on the grounds, and the mothers were accordingly delighted and forthwith set the seal of their approval on baby parades, and tendered a vote of thanks to Messrs. Sackett and Moses.

The Deaf and Dumb.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 8.—The largest gathering of people interested in the education of the deaf and dumb was called to order here to-day under the presidency of Alexander Bell, the great telephone expert. Over 2000 persons attended the first session, including the superintendents of nearly all the deaf and dumb institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and delegates from all the societies in North America interested in the work. The delegates expect to accomplish great things for the deaf and dumb, one of the principal subjects to be considered being a system of phonetic manuel for discussion, devised by Edmund Lyon, of Rochester, N.Y. The consideration of this matter will occupy a large part of the four days during which the convention will remain in session.

The Chadwick Estate.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—One of the oldest lawsuits in the English courts, and probably the one involving the most money, is about to be settled. The suit involves the claims of rival heirs to the estate of Sir Andrew Chadwick, and which was valued at over five and a half million dollars in 1768, the property consisting principally of real estate. Nearly all of the land is located in London, and the increase in values in the last century and a quarter has brought the value of the property up to an enormous figure. The lucky claimant is Cornelius Chadwick, of 207 South Fifth street, who is the eldest son of the late Thomas Chadwick, and the leading heir-at-law.

A Cricketer's Suicide.

HALIFAX, Aug. 8.—A coroner's jury has decided that Dickey, the Ottawa cricketers' bowler, who shot himself on Saturday night, did the deed while temporily insane. He had been drinking and was censured by the members of the team as having occasioned the loss of the game to the Philadelphia team.

Manitoba Quarantine.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8.—Advices from Winnipeg state that after a full inquiry by the authorities of North Dakota, they are satisfied there was no necessity for the precautions taken, and the quarantine has been lifted. Trains are now running as usual. There is not a case of smallpox in Manitoba now.

The Canal Discrimination.

OTTAWA Aug. 8.—The Government deny the report sent from here that they have removed the alleged discrimination on canal tolls on the St. Lawrence. It is likely, however, that this will be done.

The Panama Canal.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—M. Mouchicourt, liquidator of the Panama canal, has signed a convention with a syndicate of financiers and Panama canal contractors to work on the canal. It is said no appeal will be made to the public for funds until work is well advanced.

MAN'S BASENESS.

Two Men Refuse to Support Their Wives—Salmon Run Better.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 8.—John McTavish, a farmer of Mount Lehman, was charged in the district court for the non-support of his wife. Mrs. McTavish says that McTavish turned her and her children out of doors in August last. Her sister, Mrs. Matheson, kept them. McTavish had abussd her and used foul language. She had offered to go back to him but he refused to either support her or take her back. She asked that the court grant her $40 per month. McTavish owns 320 acres of land in Manitoba and 160 acres at Mount Lehman. The case was adjourned for eight days for settlement out of court.

Robert Jaggers, firsherman, will appear in the police court to-morrow morning, charged by his wife with non-support.

Two well known ladies of the west end quarrelled over a basket of strawberries on Sunday and one of them now has a black eye.

The following team will represent Westminster at the shooting contest in Victoria on Tuesday: Houston, Turnbull, Sharp, Cameron, Cornish, Wilson, Sully, Anderson, Fletcher and Pittendrigh.

The salmon run was good last night. An average of 150 to the boat was taken.

HON. MR. BLAKE'S INVITATION.

How It Was Given—The Ottawa League Originated the Idea.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The Times correspondent is able to set at rest to-day a question upon which there has been a good deal of doubt and a great deal more discussion. Ever since Hon. Edward Blake accepted the invitation to go to Ireland to contest a seat for the Imperial Parliament, it has been frequently published and is now generally belived, that Mr. Blake was induced by Mr. Gladstone to enter the arena of British politics in behalf of the Irish cause. Your correspondent knew differently, but until to-day had no authorization to contradict the rumor. J. D. Grace, proprietor of the Canada Irish Catholic newspaper here, who is secretary of the Gladstonian branch of the Irish National League, authorized me to-day to say that it was through the efforts of this local branch, which sent $6000 and $7000 during the past few years to the Irish cause in Ireland, that Mr. Blake was induced to take the step he did. The branch here wrote Justin McCarthy, making the suggestion. The latter in his reply was afraid that a man of Mr. Blake's fame might not accept an offer, considering the difficulties which existed between the Parnellites and anti-Parnellites, but added, if he would then a safe seat would be provided for him in addition to other arrangements. Mr. Blake was written to, and at the same time the branch wrote to and interviewed Hon. David Mills, whom they asked to intercede with Mr. Blake on their behalf. Finally Mr. Blake received a telegram from McCarthy, O'Brien, Dillon and Healy. The rest is known to Times readers.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Great Gathering at Denver—Preparations for the Conclave.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 8.—Over seventy-five thousand Knights Templar, and as many more visitors, are thronging the streets of Denver to-day. The formal opening of the twenty-fifth triennial conclave will take place to-morrow, and it is doubtful if another event of the kind will ever be held. The order is growing to such proportions that it is only a question of time when a single gathering of the entire organization will be practically impossible, and the crowds in Denver to-day bear evidence that the limit is almost reached, and by the time another three years has rolled around it will probably be found necessary to hold two, or even three, conclaves in different parts of the country. So the twenty-fifth, the silver conclave of the Knights Templar, held in the greatest silver city in the country, is likely to prove the last, and in numbers and magnificence it will surpass its twenty-four predecessors in the series of events which it is destined to bring to a close. The citizens of Denver have raised over a hundred thousand dollars to defray the expenses of the gathering, and have done everything in their power to provide accommodations for the visitors, and yet the hotels, boarding houses and even many of the private dwellings are packed to suffocation, and stores, vacant buildings, and in fact everything with a roof and four walls has been filled with cots and pressed into the service. Every incoming train adds to the crush, and the committees who have been appointed to welcome the visitors and direct them to lodgings are having more than they can do. The committees have been supplied with cards giving information regarding the principal streets and hotels, and the location of the different headquarters. They have been scattered broadcast, and have greatly simplified the work of handling the crowds. Over a thousand sleeping and day cars have been sidetracked at different points in the city, and are being utilized as sleeping apartments. Yesterday the church services were arranged especially for the Knights, and every church in the city was packed to its utmost capacity. To-night the resident commanderies will hold receptions from 8 to 12 o'clock, and the first grand illumination of the city will take place.

THE WORST FIRE IN YEARS

Destruction of the Tramway Company's Power House, and Valuable Machinery.

The Damage Amounts to $80,000, With $45,000 Insurance—A New House to be Built.

An Alarming Blaze at Spring Ridge Destroys Two Buildings Valued at $5000.

At 22 minutes to 2 Sunday morning an alarm of fire was turned in to fire hall No. 1 from box 61. Before the fourth tap of the gong had sounded the chemical dashed through the doorway and down the street like a whirlwind, followed closely by the hook and ladder truck, engine and hose cart. No sooner did the firemen get upon the street than they saw the ruddy reflection on the sky which steered them to the scene of the blaze without pause. The power house of the National Electric Tramway and Lighting company on Store street, was fiercely burning and had been for some time before the alarm was turned in, owing to a misunderstanding by the persons who first saw the fire. When the chemical engine reached the bridge the armature room was one mass of flames. The fire in this room was so fierce as to light up the whole city and surrounding hills. Without delay the chemical stream was playing upon the flames, but they had secured so good a hold as to render the stream practically useless. A line of hose was then laid from the John Grant down Store street to the bridge and a strong stream was brought to bear. Chief Deasy then noticed that the bridge upon which the firemen and the chemical were standing was on fire. He was afraid the chemical would be cut off and so ordered it off the bridge and to take post on Constance street, where it did excellent service. Another line of hose was laid from the engine under the bridge and another from Sayward's mill and these powerful streams, although they had little effect upon the power house blaze, kept the fire from spreading.

The scene at this point was awe-inspiring. The flames roaring with a thunderous noise leaped heavenward, sending up immense showers of burning brands and sparks. The heat, even at 100 feet from the fire, was intense and the brave firemen suffered considerably, their faces and hands being in many cases badly scorched. Their gallantry in sticking to their posts was highly commended by all the spectators.

ANOTHER FIRE STARTS.

Just as the great smokestack of the power house crashed down with an alarming roar, a bright blaze was seen shooting up from Spring Ridge, a mile and a half away. Chief Deasy instantly detached eight men, the Deluge fire engine and a hose wagon, and sent them tearing off to the scene of the new fire.

At the power house fire every foot of hose available was laid and the whole force hard at work. The surrounding buildings were catching, even the bridge showed signs of igniting in spite of floods of water. The chief and his men kept cool and whenever a fresh blaze started they promptly drowned it out. The whole north side of the lighting department office only about 20 feet from the power house was ablaze, but steady streams quenched it; it caught again repeatedly but was as often extinguished, the building being eventually saved, a miracle when one thinks of the sea of flame that raged so near it.

For some time after the arrival of the brigade the engines could be heard clanking as they spun around supplying the lighting power. The belts were soon burned through, and the engines stopped. Then the boilers began to blow off with a noise plainly audible a mile away. There was a scatter among the crowd when it was rumored that a terrible explosion was imminent.

ANOTHER GREAT DANGER

was the big gas tank barely 75 feet from the bridge, and filled with gas, the surrounding ground being saturated with tar, oil and other inflammable materials, and the ground itself partially composed of coke. Chief Deasy bent his best efforts to check the spread of the fire in this direction and happily succeeded. On the other side is Constance street, a slab and sawdust lane some 20 feet wide; on the other side are lumber piles, mill buildings, etc. By dint of hard work these were saved; it was a most fortunate thing that there was scarcely a breath of wind, or the Sayward and Muirhead & Mann mills must have gone. By means of the fire-extinguishers and an occasional dash from the hose streams the roofs of the surrounding buildings were kept from taking fire.

While the engines were working hovered over the building and along the connecting wires in a most alarming manner. These disappeared as soon as the engines stopped. One of the strangest scenes of the whole exciting hour was the spectacle of half a dozen firemen standing on the burning bridge playing on the flaming power house. The planking under their feet was all ablaze, and spreading fast when a hose stream directed by the chief came swishing around and knocked the fire out in a few minutes. When the smokestack fell it nearly struck a fireman who was standing on Constance street; it also struck the power house water meter and threw open the valve, allowing a 2½ inch stream to flow out, thus reducing the pressure on the hose streams very considerably. The pressure at best was low and not a pound could be spared, so that the loss by the opening of the water meter valve was sorely felt.

In three-quarters of an hour from the arrival of the fire department on the ground the fire was under control and an hour afterwards the chief directed the hose to be taken up and the return to the stations made. A vast crowd, despite the early hour, had gathered to see the fire and they dispersed as day began to break.

The only casualty to the men was sustained by E. Whitman, hoseman of No. 3 company, who had his left foot run over by the wheel of the wagon. He is now laid up under medical care and it is a question whether the bones of his foot are broken or not.

A ROUND ABOUT ALARM.

To illustrate the manner in which people will lose their heads in a case of emergency, the fire alarm from box 61 came through the district telegraph office. Somebody broke into the tramway office, rang up the district telegraph office for fire, they notified the telephone people and somebody turned in an alarm from 61. All this could have been avoided and valuable time saved had somebody remembered that box 15 is just round the corner from the the power house.

A man who was passing the armature room, where the fire is supposed to have started among some oily waste in a receptacle near the steam box, the removal of which had been overlooked, first saw the blaze and shouted an alarm to the workmen. The men rushed upstairs but it was too late to make use of the company's own splendid fire fighting apparatus. On each floor and in every department was a hydrant and 100 feet of hose all ready for use. If the men could have reached them in time the place could have been deluged in ten seconds.

THE DAMAGED MACHINERY.

The machinery consisted of three engines, two double and one single, and three boilers, besides the tramway dynamos, which cost $21,000 independent of the stone and cement foundations. Both cylinders of the large engine are destroyed and all the connections burned out. Two of the boilers are badly damaged, almost beyond repair, but the other one, it is thought, can be utilized again. A number of armatures were burned up completely, also an Edison five horse-power generator. A Taylor safe in which were stored the books and papers of the company, when opened was found to have preserved the contents intact. The store room of the lighting and tramway department was saved. It contained a large quantity of valuable supplies.

THE FINANCIAL LOSS.

After a thorough examination of the wreck the directors of the company compute the loss at $80,000. The embers of the fire were yet glowing when the president of the company telegraphed east for a new generator to be dispatched here without delay. No time will be lost, say the directors, in re-establishing the power house.

VIEWING THE RUINS.

A visit to the site of the late power house this morning revealed a wild scene of destruction. The huge engine which drove the lighting machinery is surrounded with heaps of charred rubbish. A ponderous beam stuck full of nails and bolts and burned almost to a cinder rested across the top of the great belt wheel, and the once beautifully polished steel and brass are thickly rusted and tarnished. Many of the smaller belt wheels have burst, and the dynamos present a sorry sight, with their tangled wires and burned out brushes. Among the debris a few prowlers were looking for what of value might be found. Most of the shacks in the neighborhood bear evidence of the severe scorching to which they were subjected, and the wonder is how the fire department, with all the obstacles in their way, could prevent the fierce flames from licking up the lumber piles and frame dwellings overlooking the power house.

DIRECTORS IN SESSION.

The directors of the N. E. T. & L. company met this afternoon and discussed the situation. It was unanimously agreed to rebuild the power house of the best fire proof materials as soon as the insurance is adjusted. The insurance on the burned property was found to amount to $45,000 after a careful revision. Mr. J. Teague, the architect, will prepare plans at once for a first class brick, iron and stone building, the same to be completed four weeks from starting.

HOW THE INSURANCE IS PLACED.

The company carried insurance on its buildings, machinery and cars to the amount of $63,500, distributed as follows:

Norwich Union	$ 4,500
London & Lancashire	3,500
Royal	2,500
Liverpool & London & Globe	5,000
Manchester	3,500
Queen	5,000
Union Assurance Society	2,000
Guardian	5,000
North British & Mercantile	5,000
British Columbia	2,000
British American	3,000
National of Ireland	6,750
City of London	4,750
Commercial Union	5,000
London Assurance Co.	6,000

Of this amount there is $3500 on the company's buildings, one of which, (the car house) was not injured; also $2000 on cars, none of which were injured. Some $8500 of the insurance was on the lighting apparatus.

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

One of the strangest of coincidences occurred in relation to the fire yesterday morning. On Saturday evening the directors of the company held a meeting and the reports received from all the departments were so encouraging, and the general outlook so good that the directors decided to build a brick, stone and iron power house on the site of the one destroyed, the work to commence on September 1st and be rushed night and day to completion for fear of rough weather intervening. With this understanding the directors bade one another good night and went home. Six hours afterwards the power house and valuable plant were heaps of smouldering ashes. "If we had only had until October 1st," said one of the directors to a TIMES reporter this morn-

A BEAUTIFUL JEWEL

Presented to Sovereign Grand Lodge Representative Waller on Saturday.

Well-Deserved Testimonial—Annual Banquet of the Officers and Members I.O.O.F.

The banquet given in Oddfellows Hall on Saturday night, to celebrate the installation of the officers of the four lodges for the current term, was taken advantage of to do honor to one of the best known members of the order, Mr. Henry Waller, who for over 30 years has been an enthusiastic supporter of everything pertaining to Oddfellowship. Every chair before the long double table in the lodge room was filled, Bro. Jas. Pottinger, N.G., presiding, with V.G. McKinnon in the vice-chair. After an hour or so had been devoted to the table, and cigars had been served, and the opening toasts had been proposed, Grand Secretary Davy, in a very appropriate speech, proposed the "Sovereign Grand Lodge," coupling the toast with the name of Grand Representative Waller. In connection with the toast the Grand Secretary said he had been entrusted with the pleasing duty of reading to Bro. Waller an address which would embody the sentiments of all the brethren in the city. He then read the following address:

To Brother Henry Waller, Past Grand Master and Grand Representative:—

The members of the Independent Order of Oddfellows of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia desire to give expression of their high appreciation of the numerous services you have rendered to the order here in the advancement of its material prosperity, the advocacy of its principles and the carrying out of its beneficient objects.

These services, spreading over a period of twenty-three years of active, arduous and unremunerated labor in the subordinate and grand lodge and encampment, must have been actuated by unselfish devotion to the principles underlying our order, as they must have involved considerable sacrifice of time and money.

You have ever been foremost in championing our cause, in adding to our members and, in protecting our funds, ever ready to do battle for the right and unflinching in denouncing that which was wrong. You are therefore justly entitled to be regarded as the representative Oddfellow of this jurisdiction.

Your merits have been recognized by your brethren on many former occasions by advancing you to the principal offices in our order, and you have received the highest gift at our disposal by your election for the second time as our representative to the Grand Lodge.

On this occasion we wish to mark our further appreciation of your many sterling qualities by asking your acceptance of this jewel, which has been subscribed to by members from all parts of our jurisdiction. May you be spared to wear it for many, many years, as a memento of our esteem and regard; may it serve to stimulate you to fresh exertions in the cause of our beloved order, and we trust it will also act as an incentive to others to emulate your example in the promotion of Friendship, Truth and Love.

Signed on behalf of the subscribers.

FREDERICK DAVEY,
Grand Secretary.

Victoria, August 6, 1892.

Bro. Waller was more than surprised when Grand Secretary Davy handed him the magnificent jewel. In responding to the toast of the Sovereign Grand Lodge he outlined the growth of the order since the time of its foundation in Baltimore by Bro. Wyldie, who established the first lodge. It was under the charter obtained at that time from England that the present sovereign grand lodge was working. The growth of Oddfellowship, since that time, has been marvellous. Now there is one sovereign grand lodge, four subsidiary grand lodges, 70 grand lodges, 55 grand encampments, 10,000 subordinate lodges, 2500 subordinate encampments, 2300 Rebecca degree lodges, 600 cantons, 675,000 members, 250,000 encampment members, 230,000 Rebecca degree members, and 25,000 chevaliers. The revenues of the order now amounted to $7,250,000, of which $4,000,000 were annually spent in relieving the distressed, burying the dead and educating the orphan. As a representative to the sovereign grand lodge he had striven to uphold the interests of the jurisdiction he represented. It had always been his aim to understand everything there was to be learned and to fill any position to the best of his ability, and to do so he had made it a rule to memorize every charge in the order. The presentation of this handsome jewel was an evidence that Oddfellows were charitable in overlooking shortcomings and in tendering to those who tried to do their duty the fullest measure of appreciation. He thanked the brethern again for the handsome testimonial and sat down midst enthusiastic cheering.

The jewel consists of the five-pointed star, made with a chased colored gold border, the rays radiating from it in red gold. Between the two, running from point to point of the star, is a wreath in green gold, clasped at the base with a cluster of diamonds and a sapphire centre. Upon the light finish of the star points rest the different emblems of the order—the Holy Bible, bundle of sticks, hour glass, bow and arrows and the all-seeing eye, each made in relief and appropriately enamelled and engraved. In the centre is the heart in hand and rainbow, the heart a fine ruby and the rainbow of colored gold. Circling the same is the motto, "Friendship, Love, Truth," in bright letters showing through blue enamel. Surmounting all on the upper point of the star rests a fine large diamond, making the colors of the order complete. Above the star are filled the three links and gavels in heavily chased red gold, and above, between two bars of scroll work, are the emblems of the encampment, the tent in white enamel, the altar in front made in relief and enamelled, whilst the guards' stand on each side with shield and spear, and across the back supporting the whole are the shepherds' crooks. The jewel was manufactured by Challoner & Mitchell, the Government street jewelers. It is undoubtedly the finest sample of the jeweler's art that has ever been turned out in Victoria. The design, which embraces every emblem of the order, is exceedingly chaste and the workmanship is perfect.

The banquet was continued until midnight, toasts proposed, speeches made and songs sung until "Auld Lang Syne" brought the pleasant reunion to a close.

Sir George Dibbs in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Sir Geo. Dibbs, the Premier of New South Wales, who arrived to-day by the Umbria, enters a vigorous protest against the Chicago World's Fair. According to him the exhibit of New South Wales, which is almost the only English colony which intends to exhibit, promises to be a miserable failure because of the alleged mismanagement of the directors of the Fair. He declares that the exhibit of New South Wales would be about one-fourth of what it would have been if Chicago had dealt with the colony as had been promised by an agent from the Fair. Sir George said that he had promised the colony everything in the way of space and after the Government of New South Wales had committed itself and spent about £20,000 it was announced that the agent was not authorised. "The exhibit of New South Wales," said Sir George, "will practically be of raw material. The colony wanted to make an exhibit en bloc, but the Fair's arrangements would not allow it." He declared that if the Government of New South Wales had learned at first what it knows now the colony would not make an exhibit at all. He did not think the colony would ever exhibit again. He said that the feeling against the management of the Fair throughout England was very bitter and that the opinion over there was that the Fair was not managed with the usual intelligence displayed by Americans. The most interesting part of the exhibit of New South Wales, he said, would be wools and merino wools. Sir George leaves to-night for Montreal. The Canadian Government, he says, was making an effort for a more extended trade with the colony, and while in Canada he was going to enquire into the matter.

The Canadian Copyright Act.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—So far the Imperial authorities have refused to sanction the Copyright Act passed by the Dominion parliament in 1885, and consequently that act has not been put in force. The concluding clause of the act stipulates that it is put in force by the proclamation of the Governor-General, the understanding being that the assent of the British Government to the principle of Canada's right to legislate upon the subject should first be obtained. A correspondence has been carried on between the Dominion and Imperial governments in reference to the matter for over two years without any result, the Minister of Justice insisting upon Canada's right to pass the act of 1889, and Lord Salisbury declining to admit such a right. Some months ago Lord Salisbury sent a communication to the United States government stating that under the conditions of the international arrangement with respect to copyright matters made between Great Britain and the United States, American authors were entitled to obtain copyrights in Canada on the same terms as British subjects. This the Dominion Minister of Justice denies, though he admits that American authors may obtain copyrights in the United Kingdom which would be valid in Canada. Some time ago the British Government referred the whole subject to a commission of experts, who have made a report intimating that the matter may be arranged if the government will make complete arrangements for the collection of the royalties payable to British authors upon books republished and sold in the Dominion.

Mr. Black Committed Suicide.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 6.—A coroner's inquest was held to-day to determine the circumstances and cause of death of John Black, a wealthy cattle dealer from Fergus, Ontario, who was found dead in his bath tub with his throat cut. The testimony showed that Mr. Black had never recovered entirely from a severe attack of influenza last winter, and that when he arrived in Liverpool on July 27 he was much worried by his business. The table knife with which Mr. Black cut his throat lay beside him in the bath tub when he was found. The jury returned a verdict of suicide while suffering from temporary insanity.

A SUGGESTION FOR DR. DAVIE.

It would appear that though Dr. Davie is styled "provincial health officer," his time is so much occupied with brow-beating the Corporation of Victoria that he cannot pay much attention to the smallpox in other places. The rules which he enforces here, going even to the length of exhibiting unnecessary harshness and inflicting needless hardships, are not carried out in Vancouver. There is no gathering of "suspects" there, such as Dr. Davie insisted upon so strenuously here, but no word is heard of the removal of the Vancouver health officer on that account. It even appears that some of the buildings from which cases were taken were not shut up or the other residents quarantined. Fumigation and disinfection of the one room occupied by the infected person were deemed sufficient. It is strange that the provincial health officer should urge the dismissal of the Victoria health officer and leave the Vancouver man in office, though the latter has given much greater offence than the former, judging from the Davie standpoint. Dearly do the Provincial Government and its officers love to tyrannize over Victoria.

There is in the Vancouver district an opportunity for the exercise of Dr. Davie's power which would be likely to prove beneficial. At Moodyville and Hastings are cases of smallpox which under the existing conditions threaten in no small degree to further spread the infection. They were isolated where they occurred, and quarantined, but close by them are numbers of sawmill hands, Chinamen and Indians, through whom the disease might easily spread. The Vancouver papers suggest that greater safety would be secured by removing the cases to Deadman's Island, where the Vancouver patients are kept, the Provincial Government of course defraying the expense. The News-Advertiser in referring to the subject expresses its opinion thus: "It appears to us that the present arrangements are both a source of danger to the public health and unsanitary as well. It is extremely difficult to secure absolute and complete isolation in cases like these and to make sure that no risks of new centres of infection are not created." The News-Advertiser strongly recommends that the present patients and any further suburban cases be taken to Deadman's Island, thus leaving only one centre of infection in the whole district. This would undoubtedly be a move in the direction of greater safety, and Dr. Davie might well consider the suggestion. He would thereby be doing much more good than by harassing the Victoria municipal authorities.

QUEBEC'S HARD TIMES.

The Quebec Legislature appointed a commission to enquire into the emigration of French-Canadian farmers to the United States, which has reached somewhat alarming proportions. This commission has now concluded its investigation, and thus enumerates the causes of the exodus: 1. poverty of the French-Canadians; 2, large families; 3, the difficulty of establishing homes; 4, defective cultivation; 5, lack of luxury; 6, seizure of household effects and wages for debt; 7, plague of the peddlers. This is a rather absurd way of putting the case, inasmuch as the poverty and lack of luxury of the French-Canadians are the outcome of all the other causes. One thing, too, the commission fails to mention, namely, the loss of the American market for the coarse products of the Quebec farms. Or, to put it in another way, the "defective cultivation of the land" was largely due to the existence of this market, and became a factor in the habitant's poverty only when it was removed. It will at once strike anyone who looks into the commission's list of troubles that they can be removed in only two ways, namely, restoring the outlet for the coarse articles which the farmers now produce, or inducing the farmers to better their agricultural methods. Reciprocity with the States would effect the first, but it will be difficult to devise any successful plan for the improvement of the habitant's farming operations. It is only too much to be feared that under the circumstances the province will be in a worse condition than now before any scheme for improvement can be carried out. It is further quite evident that the N.P. is a desperate and decided failure so far as Quebec is concerned, and that no hope can be extracted from its future operations. For that matter, its failure in Quebec is not much more apparent than in the rest of the country.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An Ottawa dispatch asserts positively that the Dominion Government will come to the relief of the Catholic minority in Manitoba in regard to separate schools. Further, it has the power to do so in some measure, since it controls the lands set apart in the province for educational purposes, a portion of which it will apply for the support of separate schools. Of course this will require legislation by Parliament, and it may be expected that when this legislation is proposed it will cause some lively discussion.

The celebrated band of the Thirteenth Battalion, of Hamilton, had an engagement with some person to play in Buffalo this month, but the United States Government would not allow the engagement to be filled on the ground that it was a violation of the alien contract labor law. Such things as this encourage the idea that there is very small soul in our nearest neighbor's very large body. It seems, though, that in band music there is retaliation, for the St. George's Society in Hamilton has cancelled an engagement with Gilmore's band of New York on account of the mean treatment accorded to the Thirteenth.

It is announced from Ottawa that at Saturday's meeting of the Cabinet an order-in-council was passed abolishing the rebate of Welland Canal tolls on cargoes going on to Montreal. All vessels of both countries will hereafter pay the full toll of 20 cents a ton on grain going through the canal, no matter what their destination. Since this removes the discrimination complained of by the United States Government, the proposed discrimination at the Sault will now be dropped in turn. This was no doubt Canada's easiest way out of the difficulty in which the Government's course had landed her, but its adoption was rather rough on the Empire, the chief organ of the Government, which is reported as speaking thus on Saturday morning: "No doctrine could be more fallacious than 'peace at any price.' The true doctrine for Canada is one of firm and determined maintenance of its undoubted rights. Under no consideration will Canadian rights be yielded." Tall talk is rather absurd when it cannot be backed up.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

ISPOSITION and temperament doubtless largely influence religious proclivities. Phrenological development is often the explanation of a person's idea of worship. The wild rhapsodies and vagaries of early Methodism found their fitting exponents in the Cornish miners, the Kingsword colliers and the Lancashire factory hands. The sensationalism of the Salvation Army naturally sought a platform and audience in the East End of London.

The canny, cautious, cool and deliberate Scotchmen, phlegmatic, yet hard-headed, unruffled in the midst of passionate fervour, with strong convictions beneath an outwardly calm exterior, obtained in Presbyterianism the most suitable outlet for their religious views. The home of John Knox is not only the cradle, the nursery, but the battle field of robust Presbyterianism. Solid, substantial, respectable, orthodox are the characteristics of that denomination upon which John Calvin stamped his mighty genius. These thoughts passed through my mind as yesterday morning I wended my way to the First Presbyterian church, on Pandora avenue, the earliest home of the denomination in this city. However much a stranger may differ with the religious tenets held by that body, the method of worship or the order of discipline; he could not help admiring the sturdy rectitude of a sect that in bonny Scotland defied bloody Claverhouse's dragoons, fought with unyielding tenacity the trained soldiers of the Stuarts, and made the welkin ring with their shouts "For God and the Covenant;" and he as well as every lover of freedom must rejoice in the glorious heritage bequeathed by those staunch forefathers of a sect which is one of the mightiest in the Dominion of Canada to-day.

Like all parties and sects of strong views, Presbyterianism in Scotland and Methodism in England and Wales became divided: but in the freer atmosphere of Canada, and realizing the necessity for union in the presence of the common foe, Presbyterianism closed up its ranks, healed its divisions, and now from the Atlantic to the Pacific there is practically but one church. The difference between Presbyterianism and Congregationalism is simply one of discipline and polity, the Congregationalists asserting with the Baptists, the supreme right of each congregation to control its own affairs; the Presbyterians on the other hand allowing appeals to constituted authorities, based on popular although not direct representation. The session is constituted by the congregation, the Presbytery by a number of sessions, the Synod by a number of Presbyteries, the general assembly by delegates from all Presbyteries in the Dominion gathered in solid conclave. There is a synod of British Columbia which includes the Presbytery of Calgary, the Presbyteries of Vancouver Island, and the two Presbyteries of the mainland.

The First church on Pandora avenue was organized in 1862 by the Rev. John Hall, missionary of the Irish Presbyterian church, and is the oldest church of the denomination in the province. Amidst much discouragement and difficulty the church has held on its way, until to-day it has assumed strong and splendid proportions, having probably the largest membership and the most numerous congregation in the province. Two years ago the building was enlarged and improved. Doubtless the architects and builders did the best they could with the old building and the means at their disposal, but to an outsider it appears as if the congregation would have been wiser to have pulled down the old church and to have erected a new building entirely. Still it is comfortable, especially in the summer time, as the doors opening on the street affords abundance of air, that great necessity to a long-suffering congregation.

A good congregation of 300 or 400 greeted the newly settled pastor, Rev. Dr. Campbell, as he assumed his place in the pulpit. Of middle age, grave deportment, weighty and sincere, "serious in a serious cause," the minister of the First church is the beau ideal of an orthodox Presbyterian clergyman. No jest could possibly pass his lips; quip or retort, satire or sarcasm, would be most unseemly. With gesture prompted by the subject, with evident desire to retain and impress his people, Dr. Campbell is—well, he is Dr. Campbell. He is natural. His intonation, although peculiar, is natural. The raising of the voice at the end of a sentence is "Campbellian," and if to be natural, plain, simple, earnest, homelike is to reach the acme of perfection as a preacher, then the people of the First Presbyterian church are to be congratulated in the choice of a minister. The preacher chose for his text Joshua 3:4—"Ye have not passed this way heretofore;" and likening the passage through the Jordan by the children of Israel who followed the Ark of the Covenant to his hearers passage through this life, he sought to enforce the truths arising therefrom. Young men starting in life, young women about to be married, the difficulties of daily life, the troubles of domesticity, and the terror of death itself, would all be helped, aided and removed by following the "Ark of the Covenant"—the Lord Jesus Christ. Many choice expressions fell from the preacher, indicative of study and a matured mind. "With Christ as leader all our troubles are insignificant." "Religion pays, young man, religion pays." "Death although so common will be a new experience to you." "The grey hairs of old age shall not be the sign of decay, but the blossoms of eternal spring in the presence of God."

The choir of the church, usually a large one, has not yet recovered the effects of the "scare" and the "camping out" exodus, but nevertheless the hymns, anthems, and solos were well rendered. Mr. Brown, the indefatigable chorister, led the singing with great taste and sang a solo in excellent style. The Presbyterians are not, I should judge, a singing community, being well content to do this by proxy, most of the congregation being lookers on.

As I listened to the anthems and solo yesterday and the rolling of the organ, I wondered how the strict Presbyterian of early days with their horror of the "kist o' whistles" and all kinds of innovations would look upon the degenerate customs of these modern times. I would not like to criticize, but I would suggest that Christianity does not forbid the hearty welcoming of strangers nor the intercourse of greeting and handshaking among the members.

QUIZ.

FROM THE NORTH.

The Canneries Have Put Up Their Full Allowance for This Year.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz arrived from the north this morning bringing down the first lot of this season's northern salmon. She brought 4740 cases from the North Pacific cannery, which were landed on the Fraser, and 1000 cases from McLellan's, which were brought here and will be shipped east over the C.P.R. The Skeena canneries had packed their full allowance, 12,500 cases, before the Boscowitz left, and it was expected that fishing on the Naas would be stopped last Friday. The Rivers Inlet canneries did not do so well. All the fish will be ready for shipment by the time the steamer returns north.

The Boscowitz brought down the following passengers, most of them from the canneries: G. Perry, Miss Tranter, W. Copeland, N. P. Larsen, J. Johnson, W. Noble, J. Barber, J. Noble, A. Pedan, D. Kelly, J. Carthew, J. Elliott, J. Mahon, J. Dick, J. Gammell, E. Embrey, T. Stowe, 40 Chinamen and two Indians.

The steamer Princess Louise arrived at Vancouver yesterday and is now discharging freight for shipment east over the C.P.R. Her passengers came over by the Yosemite last evening.

THE RIVERS INLET MURDER.

Only One Man Was Killed by a Bullet, the Other Being Scared to Death.

The Inquest and Examination to be Held at Westminster—Other Prisoners Brought Down.

The steamer Princess Louise, which arrived at Vancouver yesterday morning, brought down the principal in the River's Inlet tragedy, news of which reached the city last week. The murderer, Sing Kee, and three other Chinamen, Woo Chee Gow, Wong Ping and Lee Fong, charged with housebreaking and burglary were brought to the city last evening by Special Constable Lee and an Indian constable.

The story told by the constable tallies with one of the two brought down by the Phantom. It appears that a number of Chinamen, including Sing Kee, the murderer, had robbed the safe belonging to the Shotbolt cannery. Sing claimed that he did not get his share of the booty, and this led up to the shooting, particulars of which have already been published.

Only one man was killed by the bullets from Sing's rifle, the other man either having been frightened to death or died from natural causes. The murdered man was shot through the shoulder and chest. The other man was not touched by a bullet.

Whoo Che Gow, Wong Peng and Lee Fong are here to answer to the charge of breaking open Shotbolt's safe and stealing $690. The safe was taken from the cannery office to the woods, where it was blown open and the contents removed.

The murderer and burglars will be taken over to New Westminster, where a coroner's inquest and a preliminary examination will take place. The bodies of the victims are now at Vancouver, where a post mortem examination will be held.

Boating Mishaps.

A voice from out of the waters crying "Now, my dear sir, keep cool," aroused the Snuggeries camp about midnight Saturday. By the light of the moon and a lantern the campers found a couple of men clinging to an overturned skiff, and soon had them standing at the camp fire. The boatists were "chee chahkos," and swore by their wet garments that they would not go up the Gorge again. The Snuggeries gave them the use of a tent till morning.

Saturday afternoon while four of the lacrosse campers were rowing around in the bay above the Gorge, they tried some funny work and were soon floundering in the water. A slight warping of their clothes was the most serious result of the wetting.

The Gorge was running like a small Niagara this morning, and those who neglected to portage their boats in passing it made a big mistake. Two gentlemen, one with a dugout canoe and the other with a skiff, tried to pull their boats through by ropes, and as a result both crafts were broken. The eddy carried the boats back under the fall, sucked them under, and jammed them against the rocks.

The Hospital Accounts.

President Davies, of the Jubilee Hospital Board, has explained to the TIMES that all the accounts contracted in connection with the quarantine hospital have been properly authenticated and checked by the officers in charge, and vouchers can be shown for every article purchased. The first accounts include the buildings and furnishings, and necessarily the total is large. The cost of feeding the inmates will be less than the original estimate of 80 cents per head per day. President Davies says the agreement between himself and Mayor Beaven is being carried out to the letter. The hospital board has nothing to do with the suspect home at Ross Bay.

Mr. Muir Gets a School.

Mr. J. N. Muir has applied for the renewal of his teacher's certificate and also for the principalship of the Comox school. Success in the latter application depends solely on success in the former, as the following note received by Mr. Muir shows:—

COMOX, Aug. 4, 1892.

DEAR SIR—I am instructed by my fellow-trustees to inform you that your application has been accepted, and we shall be pleased to see you by next boat in time for the opening of the school. Yours, etc.,

J. HOLMES.

Mr. Muir leaves for Comox to-morrow.

Embarrassed Americans.

Some of American citizens delayed here on account of the quarantine, have prepared a petition to be presented to Consul Myers, asking that he request the United States to support them while here, as they are financially embarrassed, or else see that they be allowed to return home.

Letting Them Out in Batches.

There are now 25 suspects at Ross Bay suspect station and before Wednesday they will be all out. They are being released in batches as their time expires. Those who have been let out look as if they had not been deprived of the creature comforts while detained.

Canada Western Surveyors.

About 7 o'clock this morning Mr. R. A. Irvine, in charge of a surveying party of six, left Victoria to make the first preliminary survey for the Canada Western Railway. The party drove to Sooke, intending to cross the country to Cowichan lake.

False Alarm.

A case of smallpox was reported from Chinatown this morning. On investigation it was found that the Celestial's nose was running a brandy flush, the blossoms being well-defined and promising.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

THE WORST FIRE IN YEARS.

ing, "we should have been safe against all this."

INCENDIARY BUSH AND GRASS FIRES.

The natural or unnatural destructiveness that characterizes the average boy was yesterday nearly the means of causing an immense amount of damage in the neighborhood of Cedar Hill and Mount Tolmie, and it was only by the exercise of superhuman efforts and perseverance that wholesale destruction was avoided. Saturday afternoon a fire was set going in the grass on the property owned by Mr. Irving and Mr. Brownlee. The fence separating the two properties was destroyed for a considerable distance, and very much damage was done. In this case it is known who the boy is who set the fire going, and no doubt the matter will be satisfactorily settled by the parents.

Another fire was started Saturday afternoon in the rear of St. Luke's church, the rectory and outbuildings of which were in danger for some time. It broke out again on Sunday morning, but fortunately while church service was in yrogress, and the male members of the congregation lent their assistance in getting the flames under control before they got near enough the church to be dangerous. The extremely dry condition of the grass and moss, however, made this a task of no small difficulty, especially as there was nothing at hand to fight the fire but sacks and sticks.

A still more serious danger threatened the place later on in the day. A party of four boys ascended Mount Tolmie and lit a fire seemingly in a number of places, for it spread with great rapidity and has left its mark over considerable territory. It was only by the untiring energy of Mr. Brownlee and several neighbors who kindly came to the rescue and worked for hours, that miles of the district were saved from utter destruction. The toboggan slide was in the balance for some time, and the fire was creeping in the direction of some thick shrubbery, when no power on earth would have saved several houses. It was nearly 11 o'clock last night when the fire was so far under control that it was thought safe to leave it, but it broke out again this morning about 4 o'clock and there was another call on the stick and sack brigade, who had to turn out again. It is pretty well guessed who the boys are, and when they are brought to account no family or other consideration will save them from the punishment of the law in such a case as this. Information has been given to the provincial police authorities with a view to prosecuting the parties.

FLAMES AT SPRING RIDGE.

When the firemen arrived from the power house fire, a mile and a half, and urged their panting steeds to where Civertz Bros.' grocery was all aflame, there did not seem to be much chance of saving the adjoining buildings. The alarm was sent in from box 32, twenty minutes after the other alarm. The firemen had to lay 1100 feet of hose and the pressure in the hydrant was only 15 pounds. Without the help of the engine it would have been impossible to save the surrounding structures. Two buildings were destroyed, and two were saved by the exertions of the Icelanders, who spread wet blankets on the walls and roofs, and dashed innumerable buckets of water about the buildings. The origin of this fire is said to have been kerosene. The two men who occupied the store had been out at a party and, it is said, sent the boy home before them to kindle a fire in the stove. To hurry up the tardy flame, the boy, it is alleged, gave it some coal oil, with the usual result. The boy still lives. The damage to the two buildings and grocery stock amounts to nearly $5000, partly insured.

NOTES OF THE FIRE.

A piece of charred paper with the printed heading "National Electric Tramway and Lighting Company," was picked up Sunday morning after the fire, on Cormorant street, near the City Hall by one of the firemen. It is preserved as a curio in the department museum.

A lot of officious people nearly pestered the life out of some of the firemen telling them how to do this and that at the fire. In the east, nuisances of that kind have the hose turned on them for a few seconds.

Specially quick time was made in getting out to the fire Sunday morning.

The dangerously low pressure on the fire hydrants was only too apparent at yesterday's fire.

Hundreds had to foot it to town this morning, there being no cars.

The electric light company have their plant fully insured.

The company reckon their rolling stock as the most valuable portion of their equipment. They feel thankful that the cars were out of harm's way.

The whole system is expected to be in operation again before September 10.

THE CHIEF'S STATEMENT.

What the Head of the Fire Department Says About Sunday Morning's Blaze.

Chief T. Deasy was seen by a TIMES reporter this morning in regard to the power house fire and he said:

"The alarm was sent in at 22 minutes to 2 o'clock and the chemical engine was first at work on the bridge. The whole building on the east side, or front, was burning furiously and a stream from the John Grant was soon playing on the flames. Finding that the chemical engine could not stay the fire and fearing that the lumber might ignite in the mill yards on the west side no, time was lost in laying large fire hose from the combined chemical engine and hose wagon, which was also connected to the John Grant. Next came streams from hydrants on Constance street and a second stream under the bridge, making in all but five streams, and little pressure on the hydrants. As though it was so arranged, when every foot of hose was off the wagons, every man at his post, and our hands full, a glare was seen off in the east and box 33 came in. Assistant Conlin with ten men were sent to the second fire with the chemical engine. Deluge steam engine and hose wagon. The electric power house was a mass of flames; the bridge was burning under the feet of the firemen; all the small buildings in the neighborhood were on fire; the made ground with a depth of 22 feet of sawdust was beginning to burn on the north side; a large gas tank and the ground made with coke were uncomfortably near on the east side; Muirhead and Mann's mill was getting warm on the south, and the large piles of lumber on the west, across a narrow street, seemed doomed. The firemen worked hard, and in less than one hour the danger of the fire spreading was over. Every man in the fire department was at his post and stayed there. Foremen Hinds and McDowell, of the water companies, each took a street and managed their men well. Foreman Henry of the truck worked the ladders and small extinguishers and rendered good service. Several extra men were appointed and at 3 o'clock the firemen were ready for another blaze. Assistant Conlin reported two buildings entirely destroyed at Spring Ridge and two buildings saved. Of course we are not prepared for two large fires at the same time. Only last week I reported on the small force and requirements of the fire department. I do not think any fire department in the world could have saved the power house after we received the alarm, and I can only say that my men work hard under disadvantages such as one engine in service, no reserve companies in the outskirts of the city, poor water pressure, and few horses. I have always tried to point out that a few dollars spent in equipping a fire department saves hundreds of thousands yearly and the purchase of a chemical engine this year proves that the present mayor and council are alive to the fact that the fire department must grow with the city."

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

KAMLOOPS.

Sporting men are taking steps to secure suitable purses for the races to be held during the fall exhibition here.

Oliver Redpath came in Thursday morning from the cinnabar claim on Copper Creek. A deal of some kind is going on between him and Mr. Sutherland, the mining broker of Fairhaven.

Major Vaughn returned Wednesday morning from Vancouver, and begun immediately to perfect his plans for systematic work in developing the coal fields at Guerin's place. He had a force of men at work yesterday, and will increase the number as the work requires and suitable men can be secured.

Messrs. George McDonald and Andrew Derby started on a prospecting trip last Sunday evening. They went to Ashcroft and thence to Lytton through the Marble Canyon. They will endeavor to find the ledge from which came a rich piece of float found by McDonald in that neighborhood.

For July the shipment of ore from the Glen Iron Mine averaged one car a day—about 460 tons for the month. Orders for August have increased, and two or three cars per day would be required to fill them, but unfortunately the C.P.R. is at present unable to furnish all the cars needed. The prospects for the Iron Co. are steadily improving.

Mr. T. Shaw, of Salmon Arm, reports that the crops as far out as Hall's ranch are looking promising, and they are very good in the entire valley. The farmers are now shipping large quantities of vegetables, and especially potatoes and cabbage, by express and freight along the line of the railway as far east as Calgary.

The North Thompson party returned on Tuesday evening, having taken a week for the trip. Mr. J. W. Sutherland real estate and mining broker of Fairhaven, Wash., accompanied Mr. Wentworth F. Wood. He reports that the mines at Mosquito Flat, every claim of which was fully examined, make a very promising showing for the work done on them. The entire valley of the North river is a fine country both for mining and agriculture. The grass was found to be luxuriant and abundant.

SAVONA.

A sad and fatal accident occurred on Monday to the family of A. B. Ferguson, of the Lake View House, Savona. Mrs. Ferguson and five children, the youngest a babe in arms, and Mrs. McKinley (Mrs. Ferguson's mother,) widow of Archibald McKinley, were taking a pleasure ride up the valley eastward to Mr. Hugh's with a team and light wagon. They had driven about six miles, when a bolt came out of one of the singletrees. The brake got out of gear and would not hold the wheels, and the horses becoming excited ran over the bank, upsetting the wagon and throwing the party out into a rocky gulch. Mrs. Ferguson had her left arm broken and right wrist sprained, with other not serious injuries. The children received only slight scratches, the youngest none whatever. Mrs. McKinley suffered a compound fracture of the right thigh, and other very serious injuries. Mr. Ferguson immediately summoned Dr. Tunstall from Kamloops, who reached Savona before he got his family home. Dr. Lambert also arrived on No. 2 from the west. Mrs. McKinley did not want the leg amputated and her wish was regarded. Everything was done for her that medical skill could suggest, but the shock was so great at her age of 67, and the injury so severe, that she could not recover, dying on Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

DONALD.

Rev. C. P. Way, Presbyterian minister, has handed in his resignation to the proper authorities.

The town is very quiet and business men complain that trade is at a standstill.

There are three safety bicycles in the town, and no less than 30 riders.

GOLDEN.

The crops in this vicinity are excellent.

The tram line running between Mud Lake and the Upper Columbia Lake is fast approaching completion.

It is more than likely that a great deal of development will take place in the mines in the Fort Steele country.

Mr. Colquohoun, representing the Cassells Company, of Glasgow, Scotland, has arrived and will endeavor to show by actual working test the merits of the McArthur-Forrest patent method of gold extraction, and also silver.

Mr. John E. Askwith returned from the McMurdo district early this week. He brought in with him a good specimen, said to contain wire gold.

Mr. John McRae and his brother returned from the Windermere district last week. Some good specimens of yellow copper ore were brought in by them.

Mr. A. W. McVittie returned from the upper country on Sunday's steamer. It is understood that the company which he organized in London, Eng., will at at early date commence work on the Wild Horse gold diggings.

FISH CREEK.

At Fish Creek development work is steadily going on. The Dunvagan is looking well, and is farther advanced in development than the rest of the claims. It is owned by Messrs. Fishbourne, Fowler, Boyd, McCrae and others.

The Elizabeth, owned by Mr. Ryckman, M.P., and Walter Scott, is opening up beautifully. Solid chunks of galena, from 200 to 900 pounds, are being taken out as the ledge is uncovered. A tunnel is being driven to intersect the lode about 150 feet from the surface. Seventeen men are employed on the mine at the rate of $4.50 a day.

Development work on the numerous claims here is progressing rapidly and the results are highly satisfactory. There are about 80 men working in the camp now.

REVELSTOKE.

On Saturday John Shaw, John Sands, A. C. Ackerman and G. D. Clark came down from the Big Bend, where they have been working on French Creek and doing very well.

Andrew Hunker and George Laforme, owners of the Consolation gold mine, have been very unfortunate. In driving the tunnel the old slide has been met with, which it will be a difficult and costly undertaking to overcome. There is a great deal of gold behind the slide, but it is not known whether Messrs. Hunker and Laforme will make the outlay necessary to reach it.

It is hot in Revelstoke—has been hot all the week, the thermometer varying from 83 to 89 in the shade, but nobody appears to be very much affected thereby. Section men on the C. P. R. and other outdoor employees have been laid off during the hottest spells, but no prostrations are reported, although the degrees of heat registered are not very much lower than the maximum at New York and other eastern cities where so many deaths have taken place.

Mr. J. H. Anderson, mining expert of Illecillewaet and Fish Creek, was in town Tuesday and Wednesday. He speaks very highly of the prospects at the latter place, but has no new strikes to report. The Elizabeth, he says, is a splendid property, being at present the finest mineral claim in the district. Mr. Anderson made himself quite popular during his stay, having formed a large circle of acquaintances.

Ten head of cattle belonging to Hull Bros. strayed from their feeding ground last week, and after a long search it was found that they had crossed the Illecillewaet River. Crossing the Illecillewaet is pretty much the same as crossing the Rubicon—there is no turning back. How to recover the animals is a problem. Some of them will probably be transformed into bear's meat.

ILLECILLEWAET.

Things in town are quiet. Dave Woolsey has taken over the Merchants' Hotel. C. N. Nelles has Woolsey's pack train.

Prof. Ingall, of the Geological Survey Department, has arrived, and will spend some considerable time in this part of the district.

Mr. Drewry has arrived with his outfit, including 13 horses and men. He is making a photographic survey of the railway belt, and will be engaged all summer in this vicinity.

Four new claims, located near the Lanark, were recorded this week—the Hamilton Herald and Strawberry Patch, by Mrs. Colquhoun, of Hamilton, Ont.; Equal Rights, by Mr. Colquhoun, and Spectator, by Mr. F. Fitzgerald, of Hamilton.

Another rich discovery has been made by McKinnon on the Maple Leaf.

SUSPECT HOME ACCOUNTS.

TO THE EDITOR:—The Colonist's article, headed "Passive Obstruction," is most hypocritical. The writer ignores my assertion that I had asked for the information as to how many persons were at Ross Bay, and objects to my saying, "rumor says there are over 90." Now, for his information, I wish to say that, by the Mayor's request, I sent word to Dr. Hasell as politely as I knew how, asking for a statement of all persons who were at the station, as well as of all who have been there. I received a reply that the statement would be sent to me, but no such statement has been received by me. All I have received is a pay-roll of 46 persons employed. I certainly expected a full report, but it did not come. I, therefore, supposed that they didn't want to give the information and that the lone pay-roll was a hint for the corporation to pay the bills and ask no questions, which is quite in character with the treatment the corporation has received from the beginning. Perhaps the editor of the Colonist thinks that I should have gone out there myself to get the information. But no, thank you! I do not want to undergo a 14 days quarantine, for if by any means I got inside the fence, they might keep me, and burn my clothes, and I think they would have quite as much right to keep me there as they have to retain the greater part of those who are, or have been there.

In regard to payment of the wages of guards and others at Ross Bay, we have another exhibition of sanctimonious hypocrisy. No one knows better the legality or illegality of the whole business than those who are seeking to find a cause of complaint against the mayor and aldermen.

JOHN B. LOVELL.

"WHERE THE DANGER LIES."

TO THE EDITOR.—It would seem from the interview of the Colonist reporter with Dr. J. C. Davie, as given in Sunday morning's paper, that that autocratic and pedantic doctor entertains some doubts as to the effectiveness of his own system of stamping out smallpox, for he says the chief thing causing anxiety to the health officers is the danger that arises from cases which have been concealed, and mentions two cases in point. And further, he thinks that, despite the vigilance used, there may have been cases of smallpox which have never been discovered. Now, sir, considering the rigor and severity that has been used in dealing with cases of smallpox in this town, by ruthlessly tearing them from their friends, arresting and forcing the whole household into quarantine without discrimination, accompanied with wanton destruction of household property, is it any wonder that people say that the treatment is worse to bear than the disease, and naturally do all they can to avoid exposing themselves to such treatment? It is not in human nature to quietly submit to force, and all the penalties in the statutes will fail to make them. But in this, as in almost every other instance, excessive zeal conducted in a heartless manner, will invariably defeat itself. Well may the doctor doubt its efficacy, but as force requires more force to gain its ends, so he proposes compulsory vaccination. However, I trust that the scourge is now dying out in this town, and if it is, Dr. Davie may take to himself all credit, but very few if any who have had the opportunity of watching the incoming and outgoing of smallpox, at other times and in other places will concede all credit to his rigor. For smallpox is notoriously capricious. "After an "extraordinary exemption perhaps for "years a district is suddenly invaded by "it, and continues to suffer for a longer "or shorter period, after which the dis-"ease spontaneously disappears, dies out as it were." And honest physicians confess that they are in profound ignorance as to the cause of its coming or going.

PIONEER.

FOR THE BABY!

An Agent of Health and Strength!

Mothers naturally become alarmed when baby is attacked with diarrhœa in summer time. During the heated term the trouble often has fatal results.

Let us impress upon mothers the fact that the first element of a cure for diarrhœa of infants is to carefully examine as to the quality and quantity of its food and care, and to see that these give no occasion for the difficulty.

Thousands of infants are attacked with diarrhœa owing to improper dieting. These are usually fed with half sour and stale cow's milk, or poorly prepared artificial foods.

Mothers of Canada are strongly urged to make use of Lactated Food when baby cannot be fed from the breast. This wonderful Lactated Food is, to-day the only reliable and trustworthy food on the market, and is highly spoken of by doctors everywhere. From medical evidence and experience we can truthfully say to every mother, "If you wish to see your baby strong and healthy, commence at once with Lactated Food; it is a treasure where there is a baby to bring up."

Wants to See the Queen.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The English press for the past few days has been paying tribute to the touching faithfulness of a little negro woman, 76 years of age, who has come to England from Monrovia, West Africa, for the purpose of seeing the Queen, whom she calls the friend and mother of the slave. The name of the Queen's Ethiopian admirer is Martha Anna Rix. She was born in slavery in the United States, but was taken to Liberia. There the old lady has lived ever since, and years ago formed the intention of visiting the Queen, of whose services towards the emancipation of the black race the quaint old lady seems to have an exaggerated idea. She has been saving up for fifty years, and has just accumulated the requisite amount to make the voyage. During the long years she has waited she has employed her spare time making and embroidering a white satin quilt, which she intends to present to Her Majesty. A number of prominent residents of Liverpool have interested themselves in the old lady, and will try to arrange for her presentation at Court.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is an honest medicine, honestly advertised for those diseases which it honestly and absolutely cures.

Progressive Commerce.

Spot cash is the order of the day. We want money to carry on our large and increasing business. To get this money we have reduced prices for the vast stock we hold to an alarming extent. The immense reductions made would form a good capital for a small firm. Thirty to fifty per cent. discount on $150,000 worth of stock is one of the boldest things attempted yet in the province. Yet we are doing it for these reasons: We are buying enormously, paying promptly for our goods, wish to increase our connection and build up the biggest trade in B. C. Our sale commenced on Monday, and is forging ahead. Ladies, you want a bedroom, parlor, or drawing room suite, or one of our lovely sideboards, or a comfortable, artistic chair, or a bright and pretty carpet, or many things in crockery, glassware, lamps and cutlery. Sehl-Hastie-Erskine, 66 and 68 Government street, will sell them to you at far less than auction prices.

THE BOLIVIAN CONGRESS.

Change of Administration—Rearrangement of Export and Import Duties.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 8.—The newly elected Bolivian Congress met on Saturday and in the presence of that body President Arce turned over his office to Baptista, recently elected his successor. The administration of the retiring president has been one of the strongest of recent years and has done much towards restoring Bolivia to the prosperity enjoyed before the aggressions of Chile deprived that country and Peru of their rightful title to the province of Atacama, which contains the richest nitrate and guano deposits in South America. President Arce's administration has been checkered with many exciting events. Early in 1890 occured the Liberal rebellion headed by Gen. Camacho, an ex-president of the republic, against the Conservative or Clerical party, represented by President Arce. Within two weeks the president had crushed the rebellion and imprisoned its instigators. A conspiracy against his life in August, 1891, was put down with equal promptitude. President Arce also inaugurated negotiations with Paraguay for the purpose of obtaining an outlet for the products of Bolivia, through the Paraguay River to Atlantic Ocean, the country having no seaport since the conquest of Atacama by Chile. The retiring president in his farewell message to Congress recommends that in view of the low price of silver, a general reduction should be made in export duties, and a corresponding increase in import duties, especially that on alcohol. There are only twenty-nine Conservatives. Baptista, in order to get rid of Camacho, who was one of his rival candidates for the presidency, and who led the rebellion against the previous administration, will appoint him minister to Peru. Others of Camacho's followers will be appointed to posts in the diplomatic service. Baptista's cabinet will be as follows: Senors Luis Pas, Maco, Gutierres, Fernandez, Alonzo Joaquin Ichaso, and Bishop Coronados.

NOTES ABOUT NANAIMO.

The McLean-Martin Race—Miners Meet—Miniature Niagara.

NANAIMO, Aug. 8.—The sculling race between McLean and Martin came off on Saturday night in tha presence of a large number of spectators. Betting was very quiet, as everyone was of the opinion that McLean could win if he wanted to, although Martin was rather confident. The start was an even one, but from the first McLean did not appear to row as hard as in the race on the previous Saturday with Dignan. Both men kept together all the way down and on the turn McLean appeared to have the advantage; both rowed the entire two miles with a strong stroke. When nearing the winning post Martin spurted and McLean forged ahead and won by a little more than a length. The race was for $100 a side.

A mass meeting of miners was called by request of the miners of Northfield on Saturday evening in the City Hall. The attendance was slim, showing that little interest was manifested in the matter. The delegates from Northfield explained that the meeting was called for the purpose of rectifying a statement made by the secretary of the branch of the union at Northfield to the effect that they were desirous of being separated from the accident fund as well as the medical fund. This was not their desire, they did not want a separation of the accident fund; all they wanted was a resident doctor. The few that were at the meeting, however, looked at it in another light and on a vote being taken nine against five decided that Northfield should not be allowed to share in the accident fund of the Nanaimo miners.

Quite a number of the residents of Nanaimo have lately discovered that the Mill stream falls are well worth seeing, and accordingly yesterday quite a procession of young and old folk could be seen wending their way in that direction. These falls are supplied from three lakes known as Long Lake, Big Lake, and Diver Lake. The height of the falls is about 20 feet, but the volume of water continuously dropping from this height is a picturesque sight indeed, and one which a local and talented artist has painted with considerable skill and taste. There are an abundance of trout in the lakes, but owing to the stream being dammed up at the outlet salmon are unable to get up, although the trout can get down, so that before long it is surmised there will be no fishing to be had in the lakes. One visitor from Victoria remarked yesterday: "If there was such a sight as these falls to be seen in Victoria there would be thousands visiting them every day."

The Nanaimo silver cornet band rescinded the motion on Thursday night to the effect that they would give no more open air concerts. The band made its appearance again in the stand on Saturday night and delighted the citizens with a number of selections. Let us hope the band will meet with a better patronge than they have hitherto been receiving, and that their patrons will remember the many hours' work they put in to become proficient in their respective parts and then probably the remuneration they receive will not appear to be so large.

The ships Two Brothers and Oriental arrived here yesterday and after discharging ballast will take cargoes of New V. C. Company coal.

The electric railway in No. 1 shaft will be in proper working order some time during the present week.

There is quite a number of private picnic parties being organized, and as the health officer is not posted as to when they take place, the parties quietly get away and think themselves very fortunate.

The Orange Leafs defeated the Sunflowers at baseball with 28 runs to 24.

The Victoria Gun Club defeated the Union team by 187 to 181.

The United Banks defeated the Royal Dockyard at cricket by 103 to 67 runs.

At Vancouver the Victoria Cricket Club was defeated. They went to bat first and made 100 runs. Vancouver made 156. In the second innings Victoria made 60 for five wickets.

THE RIFLE.

The nineteenth annual prize meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association opens at the Goldstream range an Wednesday, the 10th instant, at 9:30 a.m. The published prize list includes fifteen events, thirteen competitions and two aggregate prizes besides an extra series. Nearly all the competitions are open to members of the association, and any person can become a member of the association on payment of $2 to the secretary, which covers a year's subscription.

Contingents are expected from New Westminster and Vancouver and it is expected that Nanaimo will also contribute a few marksmen from the infantry corps recently established there. The five highest scores among the members of the militia will form the team to represent the province at Ottawa at the matches to be held there in September next, and several of the popular militiamen who are now in constant practice expect to "get there." Esquimalt & Nanaimo train leaves for Goldstream at 8 a.m. daily and special return train will leave Goldstream for Victoria at 7 p.m. thus affording all the opportunity of spending a pleasant day at this popular resort. The fare for the round trip has been placed at 75 cents for competitors who must furnish certificates signed by the secretary and tickets will be good from Wednesday until Saturday to those who may decide to camp on the range during the shooting.

YACHTING.

A meeting of the Victoria Yacht club will be held in room 8 over the Bank of British Columbia at 8 o'clock this evening. The principal business to be considered is that in connection with the meeting which was to have been held to-day for the purpose of forming a Northwest Yachting Association.

Mexico's Credit.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 8.—The good credit of Mexico was never more thoroughly demonstrated than by a loan which has just been placed. For the first time in the history of the country Mexican bonds have been placed at par. The loan, which is for £6,500,000, was taken by English and French capitalists, and is payable in two years. It was made necessary by the bad crops and the high rates of exchange caused by the low price of silver.
